the marking of memory
& the right to remember

DESIGN, INTERPRETATION
& THE MOVEMENT OF MEANING

An investigation into the role of design in shaping Euro-Western experience & interpretation of the post genocide memoryscapes of Cambodia and Rwanda

A thesis submitted in fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Landscape Architecture at Lincoln University

By Shannon Davis
Lincoln University
2009
Bearing witness to tragedy, the aftermath of genocide often resides quite evidently within the landscape. A potent container of memories and representation, the landscape provides both a symbolic role in which to honour the victims and give survivors a place to mourn and remember, but is also often infused with the tensions of post-genocide life.

The memoryscapes of the Cambodian and Rwandan genocides illustrate these contested concerns explicitly. The case study sites investigated in this study - the Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum and the Choeung Ek Genocidal Centre in Cambodia, and the Kigali Memorial Centre in Rwanda - each express today (consciously or unconsciously) design strategies that engage the Euro-Western visitor. Termed Euro-Western ‘cues to connect’, encountered and existential phenomenological data is analysed in relation to design interpretation and the affective cognition of meaning.

Finally, considered in relation to Berlin’s Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe, post genocide memorialisation is analysed in its ability to connect through time and culture - through its ability to transpose interpretations and evolve as the needs of society change.

KEY WORDS

In undertaking research such as this, many people have questioned why I, a landscape architecture student from New Zealand would be impelled to explore such a tragic topic. Genocide is an incomprehensible tragedy that continues to plague the human race and test the boundaries of our ‘civilized’ human culture. It is a situation that persists throughout our modern ‘globalised’ world, attacking communities and people, without order, expectation or prediction. New Zealand offers separation - a type of physical dislocation that provides an opportunity for objective perspective and free thought. We are all part of a world where genocide occurs, and we are also part of a world where, with the increase in communication and popular knowledge, ordinary people become sufficiently aware of events in the larger context, therefore able to assume personal responsibility for history. Genocide is no longer considered a civil or tribal problem that happens somewhere other than here. Genocide is a human problem – a human tragedy.

In one instance, I feel this research to be completely inadequate, to be too late. Focused in the aftermath, should our efforts be not in the direct prevention of such tragedy, in trying to understand the process that leads to genocide? This research however does offer, I believe, an important discussion. Considered within the premise that the purpose of genocide memorials is to firstly honor the victims and those directly affected by genocide, but also imperatively, to engage future generations and those who did not experience the tragedy first-hand, a better understanding of the design, experience and subsequent interpretations of post genocide memorinesscapes are, I believe, vitally important to the greater discussion of understanding the connection between man and meaning in the landscape – and perhaps also, contributing to the global discussion on strategies that may aid the prevention of genocide.
Table of Contents

Abstract .................................................................................................................. ii
Preface .................................................................................................................... iii
Table of Contents ................................................................................................... iv
List of Figures .......................................................................................................... vii
List of Photographs ................................................................................................ viii

CHAPTER ONE

INTRODUCTION
1.1 Background ................................................................................................. 2
1.2 Research Aims and Core Assumption .......................................................... 3
1.3 Introduction to Key Research Themes ........................................................... 5
1.4 Method of Inquiry ........................................................................................ 5
1.5 Limitations or Justification of Study ............................................................. 6
1.6 Thesis Framework ......................................................................................... 7
1.7 Setting ........................................................................................................ 10

CHAPTER TWO

GLOBAL MEMORIES & TOURISM
2.1 Introduction .................................................................................................. 13
2.2 Genocide & the Tragedy of Man .................................................................. 14
  2.2.1 Genocide – Historical Origin & A Discussion on Definition .................. 14
  2.2.2 A World and Century of Human Inflicted Tragedy ............................... 15
2.3 Global Memories ........................................................................................ 16
  2.3.1 Global Memory & A Thousand Paper Cranes ..................................... 16
  2.3.2 Global Memories & Memorialisation ................................................. 19
    2.3.2.1 Globalisation & the Event of 9/11 .................................................. 19
    2.3.2.2 9/11 & the Christchurch Firefighters Reserve............................... 21
2.4 Globalisation & Tourism ........................................................................... 25
  2.4.1 Heritage & Dark Tourism .................................................................. 26
    2.4.1.1 The Interpretation of Tragedy & Time ........................................ 27
2.5 Conclusion .................................................................................................. 28

CHAPTER THREE

MEMORIALISATION & REFLECTIONS OF THE TRAGIC
3.1 Introduction .................................................................................................. 30
3.2 Memory and Memorialisation ..................................................................... 31
  3.2.1 Memory and Memorialisation – A Discussion on Definition ............... 31
  3.2.2 Memorialisation – Aims and Objectives ............................................. 32
  3.2.3 Memorial Form and Texture ................................................................ 33
    3.2.3.1 Memorial Form ........................................................................... 33
    3.2.3.2 Memorial Texture ...................................................................... 34
  3.2.4 The Memorial Development Model ....................................................... 37
3.3 Design Interpretation and the Movement of Meaning ................................ 38
  3.3.1 Design Interpretation – A Discussion on Definition .............................. 38
  3.3.2 Design and the Transposition of Interpretation ................................... 39
3.4 Conclusion .................................................................................................. 40

CHAPTER FOUR

CAMBODIA & RWANDA – A REVIEW OF CONTEXT & SITE
4.1 Introduction .................................................................................................. 42
4.2 Cambodia: A History & Introduction .......................................................... 43
  4.2.1 Genocide in Cambodia ...................................................................... 46
4.3 Cambodia: Presenting History .................................................................... 48
  4.3.1 Case Study Site (a): Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum ............................ 48
  4.3.2 Case Study Site (b): Choeung Ek Genocidal Centre ............................ 55
4.4 Rwanda: A History & Introduction ............................................................. 58
  4.4.1 Genocide in Rwanda ......................................................................... 61
4.5 Rwanda: Presenting History ..................................................................... 62
  4.5.1 Case Study Site (c): Kigali Memorial Centre ..................................... 62
4.6 Conclusion .................................................................................................. 65

CHAPTER FIVE

DESIGN CRITIQUE & INTERPRETATION
5.1 Introduction .................................................................................................. 67
5.2 The Case Study Method ............................................................................ 68
5.3 Design Critique & Interpretation ............................................................... 70
  5.3.1 Bonta’s Anatomy of Architectural Interpretation ................................. 71
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Figure</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fig 1.1</td>
<td>Thesis Framework</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 3.1</td>
<td>Memorial as Form</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 3.2</td>
<td>Memorial as Texture</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 3.3</td>
<td>The Memorial Development Model</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 4.1</td>
<td>Map of Cambodia</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 4.2</td>
<td>Plan view of the Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 4.3</td>
<td>Map of Rwanda</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 4.4</td>
<td>Map of Cambodia</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 4.5</td>
<td>Plan view of the Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 4.6</td>
<td>Map of Rwanda</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 6.1</td>
<td>Diagram of the Kigali Memorial Centre portraying its outward relationship with the surrounding context</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 6.2</td>
<td>Diagram of the Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum portraying the outward relationship with the surrounding context</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.1</td>
<td>Schedule of participant research – Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.2</td>
<td>Schedule of participant research – Choeung Ek Genocidal Centre</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.3</td>
<td>Schedule of participant research – Kigali Memorial Centre</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.4</td>
<td>Site layout expressed through plan graphics</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.5</td>
<td>Plan view of the Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum indicating participant movement around the site</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.6</td>
<td>Path as ‘Object’</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.7</td>
<td>Arrows indicate multiple directions during site experience</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.8</td>
<td>Site layout expressed through side elevation and perspective sketches</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.9</td>
<td>Path orientated site map</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.10</td>
<td>Vague site boundary</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.11</td>
<td>No reference to orchard or conservation dyke</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.12</td>
<td>Site layout expressed through plan view</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.13</td>
<td>Arrows drawn within the exhibition building indicating flow and circulation around the exhibition spaces, and the outside, path is drawn as object</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.14</td>
<td>The ‘outward’ nature of the Kigali Memorial Centre</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.15</td>
<td>Mental Map of the Kigali Memorial Centre in relation to the city of Kigali beyond. Labelled as Hope</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.16</td>
<td>No reference to context</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.17</td>
<td>No reference to context</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.18</td>
<td>Reference to the tree where sharp juvenile fronds were used decapitate victims</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.19</td>
<td>No smiling sign</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.20</td>
<td>A ‘realist’ depiction of site experience</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.21</td>
<td>A ‘realist’ depiction of site experience</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.22</td>
<td>Map depicting ‘symbolic’ elements of the site design</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 7.23</td>
<td>Map depicting ‘symbolic’ elements through language of the site and site context</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 8.1</td>
<td>Memorial Texture and Form – Cambodia, Rwanda and Germany</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 8.2</td>
<td>Memorial Form and texture, and the movement of meaning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 8.3</td>
<td>The Cambodian memoryscape and the movement of meaning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 8.4</td>
<td>The Rwandan memoryscape and the movement of meaning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 8.5</td>
<td>The Berlin memoryscape and the movement of meaning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fig 9.1</td>
<td>Grief/Memorial Response Model</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Photo 7.35  Photo taken from the Kigali Memorial Centre, looking across a mass grave towards the city of Kigali.......................................................... 195
Photo 7.37  Photo taken from the Kigali Memorial Centre, looking across a mass grave towards the city of Kigali.......................................................... 196
Photo 7.38  Only photo taken by Euro-western participants that made reference to the surrounding neighbourhood in which the memorial sits................................. 199
Photo 7.39  Wall of names............................................................. 200
Photo 7.40  ‘Facing Death’ photos.................................................. 201
Photo 7.41  ‘Facing Death’ photos.................................................. 201
Photo 7.42  ‘Facing Death’ photos.................................................. 201
Photo 7.43  ‘Facing Death’ photos.................................................. 202
Photo 7.44  ‘Facing Death’ photos.................................................. 202
Photo 7.45  ‘Facing Death’ photos.................................................. 202
Photo 7.46  ‘Facing Death’ photos.................................................. 202
Photo 7.47  A photo of a photo on display at Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum........................................................................................................... 203
Photo 7.48  A photo of a photo on display at Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum........................................................................................................... 203
Photo 7.49  A photo of a series of photos on display at Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum........................................................................................................... 203
Photo 7.50  Skulls on display within the memorial stupa.............................. 204
Photo 7.51  Skulls on display within the memorial stupa.............................. 205
Photo 7.52  Skulls on display within the memorial stupa.............................. 205
Photo 7.53  Skulls on display within the memorial stupa.............................. 205
Photo 7.54  Skulls on display within the memorial stupa.............................. 206
Photo 7.55  Skulls on display within the memorial stupa.............................. 206
Photo 7.56  Skulls on display within the memorial stupa.............................. 207
Photo 7.57  Skulls on display within the memorial stupa.............................. 207
Photo 7.58  Bones on display............................................................. 207
Photo 7.59  Participant photograph of the world map........................................ 208
Photo 7.60  Participant photograph of the world map........................................ 209
Photo 7.61  Photo of the frangipani tree.............................................. 209
Photo 7.62  Torture equipment on display............................................. 210
Photo 7.63  Torture equipment on display............................................. 210
Photo 7.64  Prisoner toilet........................................................................... 210
Photo 7.65  Torture equipment on display............................................. 211
Photo 7.66  Palm fronds used to decapitate victims.................................... 212
Photo 7.67  The display of victim clothing art the base of the memorial stupa.............................. 213
Photo 7.68  The display of victim clothing art the base of the memorial stupa.............................. 213
Photo 7.69  Torture equipment on display............................................. 214
Photo 7.70  Torture equipment on display............................................. 214
Photo 7.71  The undulating ground of an exhumed mass grave site.............................. 215
Photo 7.72  A covered and labelled mass grave........................................ 215
Photo 7.73  Chinese gravestone............................................................ 215
Photo 7.74  Participant photograph of mass grave..................................... 216
Photo 7.75  Participant photograph of mass grave..................................... 216
Photo 7.76  A ‘No Smiling’ Sign and participant....................................... 217
Photo 7.77  Rules at the Choeung Ek Genocidal Centre.................................. 217
Photo 7.78  Sharp angle of building façade.............................................. 220
Photo 7.79  Black paving on entry into the memorial Centre............................ 221
Photo 7.80  The ‘pointed’ ends of the trellis.............................................. 221
Photo 7.81  The shadow of the trellis falls on steps down to the mass grave terraces.............. 221
Photo 7.82  A broken pot holding a thriving cactus sits next to a mass grave......................... 222
Photo 7.83  Participant photograph of the site ‘entrance gate’ to the Kigali Memorial Centre - reminiscent of the entrance gate at Auschwitz........................................ 223
Photo 7.84  Auschwitz entrance gate.................................................. 223
Photo 7.85  ‘Insider’ – Participant TS10 considers an aspect of site as an ‘insider’......................... 225
Photo 7.86  ‘Outsider’ – a participant considers the memorial as an ‘outsider’ looking in........... 225
Photo 7.87  ‘Insider’ – Participant TS10 considers an aspect of site as an ‘insider’......................... 226
Photo 7.88  ‘Outsider’ – Participant TS10 again considers the memorial as an ‘outsider’ looking in......................... 226
Photo 7.89  ‘Insider’ – Participant TS7 considers an aspect of site as an ‘insider’......................... 226
Photo 7.90  ‘Outsider’ – Participant TS7 considers the memorial as an ‘outsider’ looking in........... 227
Photo 7.91  ‘Outsider’................................................................................. 227
Photo 7.92  ‘Outsider’................................................................................. 227
Photo 7.93  ‘Outsider’................................................................................. 228
Photo 7.94  ‘Outsider’................................................................................. 228