Introduction

The impact of the Canterbury earthquake sequence of 2010-12 and its aftermath has been enormous. This inventory lists some of the thousands of community-led groups and initiatives across the region that have developed or evolved as a result of the quake. This inventory is the third such inventory to have been produced. The Christchurch Earthquake Activity Inventory was released by Landcare Research in May 2011, three months after the devastating 22 February 2011 earthquake. The second inventory, entitled An Inventory of Community-led Recovery Initiatives in Canterbury, was collated by Bailey Peryman and Dr Suzanne Vallance (Lincoln University) approximately one year after the February earthquake. The research for this third inventory was undertaken over a four month period from June to September 2013, and was conducted primarily through online searches. Time restrictions mean that some details in the inventory will undoubtedly be missing or falsely recorded. We sincerely apologise for any misinformation, oversights and omissions.

We use the terms 'civil society' and 'community' somewhat interchangeably, and define these broadly as including faith-based groups, formal and less formal social networks, non-governmental organisations (NGOs) and other groups operating outside the formal governmental or commercial sectors. In several instances, the inventory does include some governmental or professional groups and initiatives where there was strong evidence of collaboration with communities.

For each group, the inventory includes basic data such as organisation name, type and scope, as well as information on key figures, activities and publications. Contact information, Facebook pages and/or websites have been provided where publicly available. Keywords relating to organisational concerns and target groups have been provided in order to facilitate searches within the document and to highlight parallels and connections between various organisations and initiatives.

The inventories were initially produced in order to record the presence, purpose and diversity of the numerous community-led initiatives; however, seen as a series of three consecutive documents they illustrate, longitudinally, the evolution of recovery from a community, civil society or 'third sector' perspective. With over 450 entries, this third inventory is significantly larger than the previous two. Its size can be attributed to very flexible selection criteria that allowed the inclusion of a wide range of initiatives, such as Facebook pages illustrating the importance of the internet and on-line media. This inventory did not exclude groups, networks, programmes and projects established pre-earthquake that have subsequently added disaster response or recovery elements.

Of the 454 community-led groups and initiatives incorporated into this inventory, 82 were classified as inactive as of September 2013, with the activity status of a further 24 organisations or initiatives unknown. Many of those listed as inactive had been established to help meet a particular post-earthquake need such as food provision, accommodation relief or information dissemination, and having these needs met brought such groups to the end of their natural lives. Other initiatives - events, protests, publications - were intended to be one-off (n=20). The inventory shows a proliferation of 'geography-based' community groups; of the 87 groups, only 25 appear to have been active before the quakes. Many of these communities comprised 'affected residents' representing areas badly damaged by liquefaction, lateral spread and surface rupture. The 'dark side' of recovery is also evident here in that the Red Zoning decisions have led to the dispersal of some geography-based groups representing affected neighbourhoods (with 15 now inactive). The third inventory reflects the previous two in illustrating a high rate of attrition in on-line, internet-based 'communities'.

An intriguing aspect of the third inventory is the abundance of 'theme-based' communities currently undertaking recovery work, with this category growing from 34 (inventory 2) to 280. Of these, 172 were established pre-quake and only a few had any ostensible disaster-related purpose. From this we gather most of these groups have woven earthquake recovery issues and functions into their core business. This highlights the value of cultivating and supporting an active civil society before a disaster, because its diverse membership appears able to undertake a very broad range of recovery activities over a sustained period of time. There are suggestions, however, that many of these groups are under pressure and at risk of burning out.

Table 1. A summary of the three inventories

Canterbury's post-earthquake community sector is diverse

The community-led initiatives included in the inventory are diverse, ranging from single issue, short-term projects (e.g. the provision of water immediately following the quakes) to networks that are aligned with, affiliated to, or supportive of others, and that have strategic, long-term objectives. These objectives and concerns included everything from community services and support, to advocacy, information dissemination and education across social, economic, legal, environmental and cultural spheres.

Resilience - bouncing forward

Resilience has been described conventionally as 'bouncing back'; however, the term has more recently been associated with the notions of coping with 'new normals' or 'bouncing forward' to embrace the opportunities that often accompany significant changes. The inventories document local community groups' resilience across all definitions, by providing necessary services, fighting to preserve heritage, or advocating for a safer or more sustainable urban future.

The virtual world of recovery

The importance which many NGOs and CSOs in this inventory place on creating and maintaining a Facebook presence is striking. Facebook and websites may raise an organisation's profile, be used to gather and share information. Facebook pages are especially popular and it is likely that this preference (over websites) stems from the resource limitations of certain organisations. A large number of organisations and initiatives in this inventory (n=37, 8.2%) exist solely in cyberspace. Facebook pages have a broad audience, are quick, free and very easy to set up and, for people operating under pressure and time constraints, they offer a viable alternative to more complex or more costly media. Social media played a large role in the post-earthquake clean-up in Christchurch, demonstrated most powerfully by the rapid mobilisation of thousands of people in the Student Volunteer Army.

The evolution of Canterbury's post-earthquake community sector

Many inventory organisations and initiatives (especially 'Facebook groups', n=16) were established to help meet a particular post-earthquake need such as food provision, accommodation relief or information dissemination, and having these needs met has brought such groups to the end of their natural lives. Other initiatives - events, protests, publications - were intended to be one-off (n=20); others represent a sad stage of 'recovery' involving the demolition of a neighbourhood and the relocation of its residents (n=15). Of the 453 groups listed in the inventory, 80 (18%) have been classified as inactive as of September 2013, with the activity status of a further 24 organisations or initiatives unknown. The inventory shows that longevity depends on staying relevant and adapting to changing needs and opportunities. A key point to take from this latest inventory is that many pre-quake NGOs and CSOs have layered recovery functions onto their core business, often with little in the way of extra resourcing.

The importance of volunteerism to Canterbury's post-earthquake community sector

By categorising only four groups as 'volunteer,' this inventory inaccurately portrays the community sector. This low number stems from the decision to include in this category only groups whose name included the word 'volunteer.' Despite the low number of organisations officially categorised as 'volunteer' in this inventory, it is possible to demonstrate the extent to which volunteerism is prevalent throughout the sector. The Student Volunteer Army (SVA) and Volunteer Army Foundation (VAF) constitute two of the four organisations classified as ‘volunteer’ in this inventory. Yet despite carrying out similar work to the SVA in the immediate aftermath of the big earthquakes, the Farmy Army was not classified as ‘volunteer’ because its name does not include the word. Likewise The Concert, a one-off event organised by the VAF in 2012 and based on the premise that a ticket could be ‘bought’ through four hours of donated time, did not qualify for the category despite volunteerism constituting its raison d’etre.

Though additional funding for the community sector has flowed to Canterbury post-quake, the sector has often met increasingly complex needs through volunteerism. In fact, it is only through encouraging individuals and companies to donate materials, and especially time, that the sector survives. There is a real danger that many of the individuals who continue to power the city’s post-earthquake community groups and initiatives will eventually burn out through overwork or disillusionment. A key point from this third inventory is that the issues associated with recovery (rather than immediate response) are complex and often demand greater investment in organisational infrastructure (offices, Trust deeds, funding) at a time when resources (donations, goodwill) are beginning to run low. Options for a more sustainable and equitable solution be found.

A Local Food Project

Type of organisation	Business
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	? Established 2013
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	Alex is a chef. Martine is a designer. We love food. Cooking Canterbury produce on the streets of Christchurch. We cook in a clay oven, made of clay straw and sand, all sourced within Canterbury, fire is our power. We use local produce, so our pizzas differ from the usual, because we follow the seasons and availability of produce from farmers. A different flavour is created each week, depending on what's available at markets. We run a limited number so its first come first served. Each pizza is unique, you won't see the same one twice.

A youth voice on the Canterbury rebuild: What do young people want for their city?

Type of organisation	research; youth
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes Received funding from Todd Foundation to put together a report on the perspectives of young people regarding the rebuilding of Christchurch 24-7 Youthwork: Established 2000 The Collaborative: Established 2002
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - report completed (2011?)
Description	Report: A report of over 4 000 youth voices on what they want in the rebuilding of Christchurch city and their communities. 24-7 YouthWork: 24-7 YouthWork is a trust relationship between a local high school and a local church in the context of the local community working together. It is from within this relationship that 24-7 YouthWorkers are sustained long term and paid part-time. 24-7 YouthWork is an integrated approach to youth work that provides accessible holistic, wrap-around support to all young people in the area. Locally 24-7 YouthWork is independent and supported by an organised network. The Collaborative: Our work is derived from the belief that collaborating with people and organisations whose focus is on enhancing the health and development of young people will provide the greatest benefit to both young people and their communities.

Accessible Christchurch

Type of organisation	community; Facebook group
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes - established 2011
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	A city for Every Body: Every Where.
Description	Christchurch can be the best place on the planet! We must rebuild so it's accessible for everybody; children, youth, elderly and those with disabilities. Christchurch wants accessibility at the top of the list ... You told us so through 'Share an Idea'. Help us make accessibility a best practice goal - not simply a minimum compliance issue. Through all-inclusive design, where every space is safe and accessible, we will have a city we can all enjoy and be proud of. Together we can build an Accessible Christchurch.

On Monday July 30th the 100 day blue print of the CBD is launched in town. Key, Brownlee, Sutton, media etc will be present to celebrate 'their' milestone. Our rally will coincide with this occasion and will take place outside the CCC where the blueprint unveiling will take place, time thought to be midday but will be confirmed. We need the powers that be to take notice that whilst the city may be getting fixed and addressed, we in the suburbs are ignored, abandoned and forgotten. That EQC is a shambles and insurance companies are refusing to engage with us. That the time frames being presented to us are unacceptable - we are real people who are facing uncertainty, ill health both physical and emotional, loss of community, financial loss and the inability to lead a normal, healthy life due to the fact our homes are broken and no one will fix them. We want our homes fixed so we can begin repairing our shattered lives. More info to follow soon - but this is a little over a week away. Share with all your networks - get the word out there. There is power in numbers and we need you there - placards as well.”

AEMS Lab (Advanced Energy and Material Systems)

Type of organisation	Research
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	No - established ? But promotes the sustainable rebuild of Christchurch
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	Safety - Security - Sustainability
Description	The AEMS Lab is an interdisciplinary research group with a diverse range of projects and a shared vision. Sustainability is a self-evident truth, a right of both humans and nature. Like Safety, Security, Liberty or Justice, Sustainability must be safeguarded through institutional processes. Sustainability for first world societies cannot be achieved simply by consumer choices or growth in use of renewable energy. There is a great amount of work to be done to re-organize fossil-fuelled systems. There is always a gap between fossil fuel expectations and sustainable energy feasibility. These gaps will be filled by change and transition. Sustainability is a shared cultural vision. Like other higher level ideals, we will never reach some equilibrium state where we have achieved sustainability. Rather, the fundamental requirements of sustainability will be reflected in governance, infrastructure and behaviour, and will be continuously monitored, protected and remedied.

The Arcades Project

Type of organisation	architecture; art; community; cultural; transitional
Scope of organisation	suburb; Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	The Arcades Project offers a dramatic and beautiful framework for temporary activity and an urban scale to any vacant site and its surrounds. This project was born from a desire for new ways to add movable infrastructure to empty sites for community and public events. Designed to be reconfigurable and relocatable, the structures have the potential to enliven vacant sites around Christchurch for the next 25 years. Consisting of ten modular units 6.3 metres high, each describing an open vault, The Arcades Project creates a grand space for events - everything from markets to performances. The arcades support electricity and lighting and are capable of being covered to create internal space. The design makes lovely use of negative space and the structures appear lightweight and relatively insubstantial but define a very large area. Their first deployment is on the former Crowne Plaza site on the corner of Durham and Kilmore Streets, arranged in two arcades of five bays each. Sited along the diagonal axis of this prominent city site they will support special events and their accentuation of Victoria Street as a public walkway through to Victoria Square is graceful and poignant.

Best Practice Guidelines: Engaging with Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD) communities in times of disaster

Type of organisation	research
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - report completed (July 2012)
Objectives	The purpose of the process is to learn from experience to date and to develop guidelines that can be used in the long process of recovery in Christchurch, as well as to assist agencies in other areas – central and local government as well as civil society organisations – to be better prepared to communicate with culturally and linguistically diverse communities in the event of a civil emergency.
Description	The key message of the report, compiled for CLING with the support of the Christchurch City Council by social researcher Sarah Wylie, is that “if you want to communicate well with CALD communities following disaster, don't wait until something really bad happens. Get to know them now – build a relationship with CALD communities based on mutual trust, respect and understanding”.

Description	Christchurch have had it rough over the last 10 months, and we want to make sure they know they're in our thoughts. On Friday 15 July, we want everyone in New Zealand to chip in and do something for someone in Christchurch. It might be ringing a Christchurch friend to brighten up their day, placing an order with a Canterbury-based business, or getting your workmates to all wear red and black as a show of support. It doesn't matter what it is you choose to do, big or small, as long as you chip in! We're calling it The Big Chip In For Christchurch and we want as many people involved as possible so tell your friends, spread the word and start thinking about what YOU can do to back Red & Black on Friday 15 July.

Type of organisation	architecture; campaign; community; competition; event (one-off); governmental
Scope of organisation	international
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	This is an international competition to design and build a new place for living in the Central City. The challenge was to develop a concept for medium density living - a new urban village that provides a variety of housing options and lifestyle choices based on sustainability, innovation and a strong sense of community. Architects had three months to create a concept in three drawings that would change the way people think about urban living, by designing an exemplar housing development that will be the catalyst for modern urban living in the heart of the city, and attract a new and diverse residential community back into the Central City. Fifty-eight valid entries were received from fifteen countries, the judges have identified four finalists and three highly commended concepts.

	The finalists have three months to take their initial concepts through to a more developed design. The winning concept will be built adjacent to Latimer Square, offering its residents an exceptional quality of life, with local parks, entertainment, recreational facilities, and the central business area nearby. These are visions of Central City living in our city's exciting and prosperous future.

Canterbury Affordable Housing

Type of organisation	NGO
Scope of organisation	Canterbury
Set up in response to EQs	Yes - established 11 June 2012
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	The purpose of the Trust is to reduce poverty in the Canterbury region by creating affordable housing following the earthquake events in 2010 and 2011 for ordinary citizens who through no fault of their own are sitting just below the poverty line. These people have good jobs, or maybe they have lost their jobs through the quakes. They may not necessarily be classified as “low income housing recipients” as they don’t qualify for Social Welfare support. Yet they are struggling to feed their children because rent is unaffordable. Many are too proud to ask for help, or they don’t know who to ask, instead they struggle by making ends meet living in sub standard homes and struggling to provide for their families.

To ensure all activities and decisions of the group honour Te Tiriti O Waitangi. To ensure all activities and decisions respect other cultural perspectives.
Description	Child Poverty Action Group (CPAG) is an independent charity working to eliminate child poverty in New Zealand through research, education and advocacy. In a country like New Zealand, with ample resources, child poverty could be eliminated completely. Its all about Choice. Everyone agrees children need the right conditions to grow into healthy adults. Children thrive when they have the basics: nutritious food; a warm, safe home; medical attention if they are sick and a good education. Sadly, too many children in New Zealand don't have the basics. We speak out on behalf of the 270,000 children in New Zealand whose meagre standard of living compromises their health, education and well-being CPAG works to protect children from needless poverty, because a child's potential is a terrible thing to waste.

Christchurch Baking Army (CBA)

Type of organisation	community; disaster relief; support
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes Established after 22 February 2011 earthquake
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - immediate need passed
Objectives	We Mobilize Kitchens Around Christchurch To Deliver Baking Around to Volunteers or Organizations Around Christchurch that require baking.
Description	Refueling Christchurch City The Christchurch Baking Army (CBA) started from a simple dilemma faced by 21 year old, University of Canterbury Law and Media and Communications student, Chrislynn Soong after the 22/02/2011 Christchurch earthquake. "What can I do for Christchurch?"

	That was the same question faced by other Christchurch dwellers- the lucky ones who had power and water in their homes. They all saw the massive devastation in the City on their TV screens and felt helpless. Chrislynn knew that physical labour wasn't suited for her but baking was her forte. Her plan was simple, why not invite some of her friends over and start baking for the Welfare Centers and Volunteers all over Christchurch? Gather whatever that is left in their pantries and bake something simple yet nourishing for the Volunteers and people that were displaced. And so it began, a Facebook events page was created called the Christchurch Baking Army to organize and mobilize kitchens around Christchurch. That now grew from a simple dilemma to a national movement to refuel the volunteers and disadvantaged in Christchurch. Kia Kaha Christchurch. The army has been mobilized. We are all in this together, spatular and whisk at hand.

The Christchurch Earthquake Appeal Trust

Type of organisation	disaster relief; fundraising
Scope of organisation	international
Set up in response to EQs	Yes Christchurch Earthquake Appeal Trust launched by Prime Minister John Key on 27 February 2011
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - event completed (fundraising closed)
Description	Launched by Prime Minister John Key on 27 February 2011, the Christchurch Earthquake Appeal Trust is the official, global fundraiser for the recovery effort for Christchurch and the Canterbury region. The Appeal will help rebuild those things that are at the heart of Christchurch communities, the places and services that make a city worth living in. So far, immediate efforts in Christchurch have focused on the human tragedy and emergency relief. The response from the Civil Defence and community action and support groups has been fantastic. Equally, the central Government is committed to large-scale infrastructure rebuild, which includes roads, bridges, water, and other core services. The Christchurch Earthquake Appeal will complement emergency support provided by other charitable agencies, and core government responsibilities. When the earthquake struck Canterbury, community facilities which took decades of fundraising to put in place, such as sports fields, school equipment, and community buildings, galleries, historic buildings, and arts centres, were ruined within hours. If we want to put a city back together, we need to put its communities back together too.

Description	The effect that the series of major earthquakes which have hit Christchurch, New Zealand have had on those who have experienced this tragedy.”

	Christchurch Earthquake Journal is a community based journal made up of contributions from the people of Christchurch for the people of Christchurch, past and present. It is a place where we can share our stories on how we got through not one, but two major devastating earthquakes and their associated cycle of aftershocks within months of each other. It is also a place where we can bond together and support each other as we rebuild our lives and our city.

Christchurch Good News

Type of organisation	community; Facebook group
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - group no longer in operation
Objectives	Spreading good news in Christchurch
Description	Research shows that positive emotions, gratitude, hope, optimism and strong relationships are all vital components of resilience. As Christchurch embarks upon the long road to recovery and starts to rebuild, residents are only too aware of the frustrating, sad and challenging aspects of living in an earthquake ravaged city. But resilience requires good news - we all need that lift and hope to fuel our stamina. This is a place for all Christchurch residents, supporters and friends to discuss and share what's great about living in Christchurch: stories of renewal, creativity, and returning to homes; a place to say thanks for everyone engaged in the rebuild.

Community Energy Action Charitable Trust

Type of organisation	Charitable Trust
Scope of organisation	Canterbury
Set up in response to EQs	No - established 1994 But most of their current focus is ensuring homes are warm and dry post-EQs
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	Our mission is to provide all householders with accessible energy solutions to achieve good health, good environmental outcomes and the relief of fuel poverty for all in our community.
Description	Community Energy Action is a charitable trust, and surpluses from our work are reinvested in our charitable programmes. These programmes ensure vulnerable people in our community can keep warm and healthy. A warm and dry home benefits health. We work in Canterbury north of the Rakaia. Page dedicated to keeping warm after the earthquakes: http://www.cea.co.nz/earthquake (Post on Facebook page on 14 May 2012: We've recently updated our 'Keeping warm after the earthquakes' webpage: with tips to keep warm in an eq damaged house and energy efficiency measures to incorporate during repairs.) The earthquakes have caused substantial damage to many homes in Christchurch, Kaiapoi and other Canterbury areas. On this page you will find information about: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Insulation and your EQC/insurance claim • Improving your home during earthquake repairs • Staying warm in a quake damaged house or temporary rental property • More information
Activities	Community Energy Action is currently running the following charitable programmes In the greater Christchurch area, North Canterbury and some other parts of Canterbury: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Warm Families, a targeted programme for those with otamedical conditions • Healthy Homes, a targeted programme for those who have been hospital twice in the last two years. • Warm Babies, a targeted programme for families with small children (0-4 years old) • Elderly Health, a targeted programme for older people. • Community Energy Action Discretionary Fund, a fund that provides funding for insulation and heating for those in extreme hardship. • Curtain Bank, providing recycled lined or thermal curtains for Community Services Card holders. • Energy Advice Service, a free advice service on all home energy issues. If you cannot afford to keep warm and do not fit into any of these programmes, please contact us. We may still be able to help you.

Community Fruit Christchurch [formerly: Community Fruit Harvest Christchurch]

Type of organisation	community
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	? - established November 2011
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - group no longer in operation
Objectives	To reduce wastage of seasonal fruit by sharing with those in need.
Description	Picking excess fruit from Christchurch trees and distributing to local charities. Many people have fruit trees with fruit that they don't use - why not share it! We see a lot of fruit rotting on the ground and we don't want to see this any more! Now more than ever we have people on our own doorstep that would very gratefully receive the excess fruit we have. With the price of fresh produce skyrocketing, and with the rough time we have had in Canterbury people are struggling - this is a way we can all help others in our community! Inspired by the very successful Community Fruit Harvest - Auckland, we aim to make a difference but we need your help.

Community Language Information Network Group (CLING)

Type of organisation	community; information dissemination; support
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	?
Description	CLING is a subgroup of the wider inter-agency and community group that has been coordinating responses to the Canterbury earthquakes, and was formed out of a planning meeting for the multicultural sector in March. One of the key issues raised was a concern that earthquake related information was not reaching people whose first language was not English. The group has developed two separate guidelines: one on “getting public information earthquake messages to culturally and linguistically diverse or multicultural communities” and the other on “using interpreters for earthquake-damaged homes and business assessments”. The group has helped to distribute available information and arranged for the translation of further health-related material, and provided assistance to the Earthquake Operations Centre in interpreting community briefings into Chinese, Korean and Samoan. The Concert

Type of organisation	community; cultural; event (one-off); volunteer
Scope of organisation	Canterbury
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active Event completed (3 November 2012) but Facebook page still active
Description	In 2012 the Volunteer Army created an initiative designed to lure youth into experiencing volunteer activity. On Saturday the 3rd of November, 2012, they hosted a 10 hour music event at the New AMI Stadium in Addington, Christchurch. The catch? The only way to get a ticket was to volunteer at least four hours of time on any one of over 900 volunteer projects and events that we advertised through the custom built website www.TheConcert.co.nz. The functionality of this website now still exists in the 'Get Involved' section of this site. 8,000 tickets were sent out to individuals who contributed to over 50,000 hours of volunteering. 24 of New Zealand's hottest acts all volunteered their time for the event. We want 4+ hours of your time, and in return we'll give you a ticket to the biggest music concert in Christchurch this year. The Concert, a concerted effort with thanks to Skinny Mobile, is a revolutionary concept in New Zealand that saw 8,000 people join the Volunteer Army and help create 50,000 hours of volunteer service. The Volunteer Army Foundation is the parent body of the Student Volunteer Army, and is focused on embedding a culture of service. With your help, we produced a phenomenal 8 hour music event, with 24 leading Kiwi artists and the Skinny Interactive Village which went off, loaded with fun, non-stop activities. Unlike any other event (ever) in New Zealand, tickets for 'The Concert' were granted by registering 4+ hours of your time volunteering. We completed over 1000 projects in and around Christchurch helping, fixing, mending and creating whatever we could to make our city a better place! It's not too late to be involved, you can "Pledge" here, and join the Volunteer Army in a range of new projects over the coming months.

Description	The Earthquake Disability Leadership Group is a collective of disabled people, their allis and DPO's advocating for an accessible Christchurch earthquake recovery and rebuild. The Canterbury Earthquake Disability Leadership Group is a disability community collective advocating for a 100% accessible Christchurch rebuild. Led by disabled people, the group is a partnership between key disabled leaders, disabled people's organisations (DPOs) , family/whanau, providers and regional officials in Christchurch. Comprised of roughly 60 members, the Group is coordinated by disabled leader Ruth Jones. Ruth Jones, under her company Kanohi ki te Kanohi Consultancy, has been contracted to develop a Disability Recovery Plan, which will sit under and align with the CERA Recovery Strategy. In developing this, she is working collectively with the Disability Earthquake Leadership Group. The Group also has a Governance Group, which meets fortnightly. The larger group meets quarterly, with ongoing communication occurring between meetings.

Earthquake preparedness in an ageing society: Learning from the experience of the Canterbury earthquakes

Type of organisation	research
Scope of organisation	Canterbury
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - report completed (February 2013)
Objectives	The report is relevant to the EQC and other organisations concerned with disaster recovery. As they look to the future in an ageing population, they need to consider age-appropriate forms of preparedness and public education, immediate responses, short and long-term housing, support and care services and measures to ensure social connectedness and psychological wellbeing.
Description	International literature emphasises the vulnerability of older people and in many natural disasters they have been found to have suffered disproportionately. Most of the research, carried out by psychologists and health professionals, concentrates on mental health and psycho-social impacts. But there is considerable evidence that older people display both resilience and vulnerability in challenging situations. Authors note the need to take a proactive approach to meeting the needs of older people in the face of their self-effacement and stoicism.

Eastern Visions

Type of organisation	community
Scope of organisation	suburb
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	Share an Idea' was a successful council campaign that gave folk a voice in what they wanted to see in the CBD. This is a similar initiative for the severely affected east side of town, except this time it is run by the community. Here you are invited to 'share an idea for the east'. Anyone can contribute their ideas and visions for a specific suburb, the Avon River residential red zone or for the east as a whole. Every entry is saved into a central database, the results will then be analysed and published. This is an open database and there will be free access to the raw data and analyses. 'Eastern visions' stalls will be set up at all the major event hubs of the Spring River Festival taking place over Labour Weekend. At these stalls festival-goers will be able to write their ideas onto notes which will be entered into the database.

Elevated Garden City

Type of organisation	community; cultural; environmental; website
Scope of organisation	Christchurch / online
Set up in response to EQs	Yes - established early March 2011
Active in Sept 2013?	? No posts on website since May 2012
Objectives	The aim of this website is to make sure we all think “outside the box” when we consider how to rebuild the CBD of our beloved Christchurch. This is a chance to turning Christchurch into an iconic world city without costing a fortune.
Description	The earthquakes are an opportunity to create something special in Christchurch. Imagine a garden city where we took the Manhattan rooftop garden to whole new level. Given that most people in the CBD will not want to live and work in high rises, then this new set of low rise buildings give Christchurch the opportunity to build an elevated garden/walkway space that could become one of the world’s iconic cities. Instead of the roofs being wasted space it would be possible to make the space useful and linked with walk/cycle ways. You could walk around the CBD without ever crossing a road. Visitors landing in our fair city would look down on roofs of pure green. With new sustainable, energy-conscious buildings we would become the greenest city in New Zealand inside and outside.

Objectives	The Environmental Defence Society is a not-for-profit environmental organisation comprised of resource management professionals who are committed to improving environmental outcomes.
Description	EDS was established in 1971 by a group of law students and scientists. The idea was to bring together the disciplines of science, law and planning to advocate for the environment. Since its inception, EDS has had a long and largely successful history of litigating environmentally significant cases. More recently EDS has become increasingly involved in providing support and capacity building for individuals, community organisations and councils; in undertaking research and policy analysis on key environmental issues; and in profiling key issues through seminars and conferences.

	In its research and policy work EDS seeks to build constructive partnerships and relationships with business, government and other groups across civil society.

Type of organisation	community; event (one-off)
Scope of organisation	suburb
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - event completed (25 May-3 June 2013)
Objectives	Our [Garden City 2.0] particular focus in the coming years is on young people and the eastern suburbs of Christchurch. This is a response to the needs presenting in this area, including high unemployment and health and wellbeing issues that have been exacerbated by the Canterbury earthquakes. We are seeking to involve local communities in taking back the control of where their food comes from, connecting them to the skills, knowledge and support this requires, and helping them to see the impact this can have on their health. Although at an early stage, the projects we are involved with are in the first instance about growing and harvesting organic food, but inherently have social, educational and health benefits for those involved. The consistent thread that we base our involvement on is always linked back to our core objectives, furthering our communities' knowledge around local food as well as increasing the production and distribution of local food.

Gap Filler Charitable Trust

Type of organisation	architecture; art; Charitable Trust; community; cultural; transitional
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes Established October 2010 Gap Filler is a creative urban regeneration initiative started in response to the September 4, 2010 Canterbury earthquake, and revised and expanded in light of the more destructive February 22, 2011 quake.
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	A creative urban regeneration initiative activating vacant sites in Christchurch with creative projects for community benefit.
Description	Gap Filler aims to temporarily activate vacant sites within Christchurch with creative projects, to make for a more interesting, dynamic and vibrant city. Gap Filler will see vacant sites - awaiting redevelopment as a result of the many earthquakes or otherwise - utilised for temporary, creative, people-centred purposes. We work with local community groups, artists, architects, landowners, librarians, designers, engineers, dancers - anyone with an idea and initiative! We lower the barriers, by handling the legal contracts and liability insurance, to help ideas become a reality.

	Gap Filler is temporary in nature, seeking to activate vacant sites for relatively short periods, to demonstrate that the city can grow in important ways without large capital expenditure or major construction. Gap Filler projects can pop up as spaces become available around the city. All projects will be able to occupy or vacate a site quickly. With smaller-scale temporary projects, the community gets to try out new ideas and create a dynamic for experimentation. Together, we can work out what works by actually doing it, not just talking about it. Some projects might disappoint, but an unsuccessful project on this level costs relatively little time and money, and can help avoid a much costlier failure in the city rebuild. So, in addition to enlivening and enriching the cultural life of the city, these projects are utterly practical. We seek to involve members of the community and volunteers in our projects at any stage, from suggesting ideas to the design, preparation, installation and maintenance of sites. In this way we hope to help connect people with their city and provide opportunities to have a stake in the city right now. Christchurch needs our help! There are wonderful ideas for the future of the city, but that's a long way off and many people need reasons to stay now. Gap Filler gives everyday people a way to contribute to the city's regeneration instead of passively waiting for the professionals to do the job. Site-specific projects can help us celebrate, mourn and criticise all that we've lost; can help us play, experiment and toy with ideas for the future; can make otherwise empty areas active; and can ultimately pave the way for the revitalisation of the city (without using pavement).
Activities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Arcades Project • Anissa's Vintage Market (monthly) • book fridge • Cycle-powered Cinema • Dance-O-Mat • Gap Golf: http://www.gapfiller.org.nz/gap-golf Gap Filler's Gap Golf project came from humble beginnings – a thin strip of donated, used, artificial turf, some wood and waratah off-cuts, an empty baked beans tin and a bit of land from a Greening the Rubble project – and “Skinny Limits” was born in mid 2012. It is a short par 2 between the first Gap Filler office site (404 Colombo Street) and Coffee Zone in Sydenham. There are now 7 holes in the inner-city, please see below for info on locations. With the grand plan to launch a multi-hole course around the city by the end of 2012 delayed due to the construction and activation of the Summer Pallet Pavilion, Gap Filler are now pleased to announce the course is officially open. Each hole is located on different sites around the inner city. The holes will remain in place for as long as landowners are happy for Gap Filler to use their sites. The mini-golf holes can be used by anyone at any time. Where possible nearby businesses will put a club and balls out each day during the week for the public to borrow, otherwise come prepared with your own putter and ball. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Gap Map: http://www.gapfiller.org.nz/our-projects/ • 13 April 2013: Hidden Talent Show • mural painting • music events • Pallet Pavilion • pop-up soccer pitch • April 2013: Rock on Eastside (rock painting) - in collaboration with Youthtown • Transitional City Audio Tour: http://www.gapfiller.org.nz/apr-8-the-transitional-city-audio-tour/ Coordinated by Gap Filler co-founder Ryan Reynolds this project offers locals and visitors to the city alike the opportunity to explore part of what was once the CBD on foot, linking selected sites, buildings and landmarks – both notable and obscure – into a trail that takes participants from Gap Filler's Summer Pallet Pavilion in a loop around the central city.

	The motivation for this project came from a group of people who were keen to explore and demonstrate their shared interest in the Transitional City, and a desire to critique the top-down, “Master Plan”/Blueprint process. The project brought together people involved in fine arts and creative arts disciplines, geography/planning, architecture, and landscape architecture from CPIT, Lincoln University, and the University of Canterbury. Their personal stories and historical and contemporary geographical and architectural information provide the listener with what feels like a personalised commentary of the current Christchurch city experience.

Garden City 2.0

Type of organisation	business; community; environmental
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	growing local food resilience in Christchurch
Description	Garden City 2.0 is a new social enterprise developing food initiatives with Christchurch communities. We often get asked, ‘what does 2.0 mean?’ 2.0 is computer/IT jargon inferring the new and improved version of – so Garden City 2.0 is the new and improved version of the Garden City (Christchurch). We see this being achieved through food: local, organic and grown in abundance. We run a FoodBag delivery service which supports small farms, urban food producers and artisans in Christchurch. It also serves to distribute nutritious food, increase community understanding around local food and contributes to the neighbourhood economy.

Description	Christchurch, we think you're unstoppable and we want to celebrate you and your people! So here it is: our gesture to you. Get Local is a new initiative brought to you by YHA New Zealand to celebrate the spirit of Christchurch and Canterbury post-earthquakes. Get Local promises to connect locals and travellers with cool activities, quirky businesses, grassroots events and home-grown attractions and culture. In the aftermath of both the September 2010 and the February 2011 earthquakes, countless individuals have stepped to the fore, creating spaces for people to gather and foster community. That's amazing. Forget the cordons for now. Let's look beyond to see what's going on in our City Otautahi. The suburbs are hopping and the food is hot. Come in, the doors are open. Prepare yourself for authentic, local experiences as we learn about each other and our city while discovering what we are all truly capable of. Christchurch, here's to you! Get local!

Greening the Rubble Charitable Trust

Type of organisation	Charitable Trust; community; environmental
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes - established December 2010
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	The spaces appearing in Christchurch as a result of the September 4th 2010, Feb 22nd 2011 earthquakes and subsequent aftershocks, are a sad reminder of the loss and upheaval many residents and business owners have experienced. Many sites within the Four Avenues, south and eastwards have been left derelict. We are responding! Instead of them remaining rubble deserts or car-parks, our volunteer project uses these spaces to create vibrant, positive places that people can enjoy, whilst our city gets back on its feet. Greening the Rubble Project aims revive these sites through temporary public mini- parks, community gardens, wildlife habitat, sports and play spaces. Some spaces are shared with Gap Filler Trust activities (see them also on Facebook). Greening the Rubble at Victoria Street, for one year until December 2011, was our first initiative. This temporary park provided a pleasant grass lawn, trees and seats plus wildflowers. This site is to be redeveloped soon. The park has been deconstructed and elements rearranged into three new smaller sites. Many more have followed. Greening the Rubble Project is flexible and temporary! In 2011 our work was recognised by a Civic Trust Award and has attracted City Council grant funding. Further awards followed in 2012. We are a community-run initiative, of volunteers from various companies, education bodies and trusts and this project is only made possible by continued generous donation of people's time and skills, materials and equipment. We really appreciate your contribution.

HEKE - Heroic Educated Kiwi Expatriates

Type of organisation	advocacy; campaign; disaster relief; fundraising
Scope of organisation	international; online
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	2011 New Zealander of the Year Sir Paul Callaghan is asking expat Kiwi graduates to make a significant contribution to the Christchurch earthquake recovery mission by paying back their student loans.
Description	In Te Reo, Heke means "to reduce". "By reducing their student debts these heroes and heroines help New Zealand rebuild Christchurch." Sir Paul says the repayments would not only help New Zealand recover from the disaster, they would make good financial sense to the students. Graduates who live overseas do not qualify for the Government's zero-interest student loan policy. "What is remarkable about all of you is that you are earning an income in foreign currency, and if you were to decide to accelerate your loan repayment rate, you would not only save yourself interest, but you would be acting heroically to help save your country," says Sir Paul. Become the stuff of legend - join the HEKE project. More than 85,000 New Zealanders with student loans live abroad. They have a median student debt of $17,900—a total debt of over $2 billion. A partial or full repayment of that debt would provide a huge financial boost to the Christchurch recovery effort which is estimated to cost New Zealand taxpayers $7 billion.

Knitting for Christchurch

Type of organisation	community; disaster relief
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - immediate need passed
Objectives	To keep the children of ChCh warm this winter by replacing the clothes they lost in the earthquake with warm, handknitted woolies knitted with love.
Description	My Mum lives in ChCh, but due to health issues she is unable to get out there and physically help. This has really upset her as she knows so many are in need after the earthquake on February 22 2011. It suddenly struck me that one thing my Mum can do and does REALLY well is knit. She knits like a demon - she doesn't even have to look at what she is doing! Plus, she loves to knit baby and toddlers clothes SO I thought if we could get wool to her, she could knit it up and then gift it to the Red Cross and Salvation Army. And that's where you come in. Mum cannot afford to buy anymore wool and I'm chipping in when I can; but can you help? If you have a bag of wool stuffed in the back of the wardrobe or the odd ball lying round or even if you just feel like donating a couple of balls to the cause, it would be a great help. We have drop off areas in ChCh and Auckland at the moment so you could either drop it off there or post it straight to my Mum.

Life in Vacant Spaces (LiVS)

Type of organisation	community; cultural; transitional
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	Life in Vacant Spaces encourages the productive, temporary use of vacant land and buildings around the city.
Description	We are dedicated to inspiring the people of Christchurch to activate the city's vacant sites with creative, intriguing and entrepreneurial transitional projects. Creative folk, entrepreneurs and property owners like you now have the tools you need to make temporary use a low-risk and positive reality. All that's left is for you to have a go Christchurch! The 4 September 2010 earthquake saw organisations like Gap Filler and Greening the Rubble tap into an unmet community need – that of people creating people-spaces in and around the demolished building sites of Christchurch. Large quakes in February, June and December 2011 only saw the desire grow for inventive use of the increasingly vacant space around the city. Here at LiVS, we see temporary use of vacant space as a key social, economic and cultural driver for the city. Let's ingrain it as a highly anticipated, hugely participated-in and enlivening element of new-Christchurch culture. Exciting!

Lost Christchurch

Type of organisation	archival; commemoration; community
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	Commemorating the Social and Cultural History of Christchurch
Description	Between September 2010 and February 2011, Christchurch was struck by three major earthquakes leaving the city’s heart ripped apart and lying in rubble. Through this unimaginable force of nature, we were suddenly forced to realise we have lost the loved, familiar and treasured buildings and streetscapes forever. This website allows us to reluctantly bid farewell to the Christchurch that once was, and provides an opportunity to grieve for and treasure the lost Victorian and Edwardian elegance, charm and irreplaceable ambiance which permeated our streets.

The Lower Avon Heritage Recovery Trail

Type of organisation	advocacy; community; environmental
Scope of organisation	suburb
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - report completed (October 2011)
Objectives	That Christchurch have a garden heritage tourist attraction that can be marketed for both domestic use-- school visits, community organisation bus tours--and as a major commodity for in-bound tourist companies.
Description	That the Avon River serve as both a time-line and a frame of reference for a series of protected heritage sites extending from the city’s original Ngai Tahu food-gathering place, now the Avon Loop, to the city’s estuary. Sites are selected to demonstrate the development of gardens, both Maori and Pakeha. Four of these sites will require the city’s commitment to restore and protect architecture relating to the gardens and their history on the sites along the Avon.

Lyttelton Community House

Type of organisation	community; support
Scope of organisation	suburb
Set up in response to EQs	No - established ? But provided much post-earthquake assistance Received funding from the Todd Foundation to support the cost of running a community van for post-earthquake support
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	Lyttelton Community House reopened within 2 weeks of February 22 after the building owners had the buildings assessed and the building was green stickered. It has a huge demand for its services at present, and we have taken on Community Meals, being cooked and delivered by volunteers to elderly people who have no family support. Lyttelton can be so easily cut off from Christchurch in an emergency, and its isolation means that our services are much more in demand now than ever before.
Activities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Community Meals - meals for 32 + elderly people delivered to their homes 6 days per week • Community Lunch - offered regularly • Social, recreational, and other support offered as usual • Craft Group will be up and running again in winter • Matariki Celebration coming up on 4 June, Lyttelton Recreation Centre

Type of organisation	business; information dissemination
Scope of organisation	Christchurch; online
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	To put businesses back in contact with their customers, after the Feb 22nd Canterbury earthquake. Search for a business near you, there are over 800 businesses enlisted at Made In Christchurch.
Description	Driving around Christchurch it quickly becomes evident that businesses are desperate to inform the general public what has happened to them. Streets are littered with makeshift signs, hand-written placards, notices on closed shop doors, spray painting on walls and newly printed posters advising potential customers where to find you. Customers want to know what has happened to their favourite shops and are looking to replace the ones that are gone.

Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	Malvern Community got together to be good news to each other and for others - particularly following Christchurch's February earthquake. We continue to explore what it means to be neighbours and community. There's room for all kinds of community based discussion. Water quality is the issue right now - people are told the water isn't safe to drink, but of course many people have 'dirty' water that is in their storage tanks. We are seeking suggestions from professionals.

National Red & Black Day for Christchurch - Friday March 4, 2011

Type of organisation	campaign; event (one-off); fundraising; support
Scope of organisation	New Zealand
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - event completed (4 March 2011)
Objectives	Fundraising for New Zealand Red Cross
Description	As a nation we have all been devastated by the Christchurch earthquake and felt helpless as we stood by and watched members of our Cantabrian family suffer immeasurable pain and tragedy and loss. Many of us have wracked our brains to think of ways we can help. So we are drumming up support from Kiwi's around the world to Stand together as ONE in solidarity for our Canterbury family and friends by holding a National Red and Black Day on Friday March 4, 2011. We are asking: Kiwi's lets stand together as a nation & show our love, support & solidarity for our devastated Christchurch family & friends and the brave emergency workers, doctors, and name less heroes by wearing the proud Cantabrian red & black colours to school, work or around home for the National Red & Black Day on Friday March 4, 2011. We ask that everyone that participates donates a gold coin to the New Zealand Red Cross 2011 Earthquake Appeal, with money to be collected at each place of work, school etc. Donations instructions follow at the end of this email. We are also asking that one minute's silence be observed at 12.51pm on this day. We are aware of some Auckland based businesses and individuals who are planning to wear red and black today and tomorrow. However our hope is to make this a truly united and national event and get as many New Zealanders involved as is possible.

Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - group no longer in operation
Description	It has been decided to build a temporary cardboard cathedral in Chch at a cost of $5.3 million. People are sleeping in cars, garages and on the street and the priority is this!? People have worshipped since the Feb 22 earthquake elsewhere so why the need for this cardboard fixture now?? People in Chch need houses fixed, heating for the cold winters they are facing and to know they are not being ignored. I used to be excited about the new start Christchurch and now I am simply embarrassed. This will not make Chch, it will only make us the laughing stock! View your opinion here....

One Voice Te Reo Kotahi (OVTRK)

Type of organisation	advocacy; NGO; umbrella organisation
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	To represent the NGO sector in consultations with CCC and CERA
Description	Who we are: We are 'One Voice Te Reo Kotahi', speaking from the sector allowing the voices of organisations that have not been formed by Government or Commerce to be heard. We stand for all parts of the sector, as tangata whenua and tangata Tiriti, providing expertise and experience of and in the sector. How we function: By consulting with groups and collating responses from them, we provide two-way communication between the NGO sector and government, and commerce – a brokerage role. We support and promote the contribution of organisations in the sector. We advise and inform decision makers of the issues. We are working alongside CanCERN in its vital role with local residents' groups, bringing in the specialist city-wide NGOs (many with national dimensions). Interpretation of Te Reo Kotahi One Voice is simply the waka on which the NGO sector with its many faces (nga matatini) carries community expectations and truths with integrity.

Scope of organisation	Christchurch; online
Set up in response to EQs	No - established ? But post 'Earthquake reflections'
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - group no longer in operation Last post 22 October 2012
Description	We create an open future for ourselves when we can learn from the world we live in, and about that world in a way that makes it possible for us to change. If I can change what I know and what I believe, I can change what I do. If I can learn to do new things then my future is open. If I block my ability to learn because something I already know distorts my view of the world and corrupts what I can learn, my future is closed.

Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - group no longer operational
Objectives	A forum to redesign Christchurch, New Zealand with a plan for a socially, economically and environmentally sustainable future.
Description	As you may know, an earthquake has destroyed most of the Christchurch City Centre and many of the surrounding suburbs. We want to rebuild with a plan for a sustainable future but we need help getting there. Put simply: We need advice, experience, know-how, and designs on the best ways to implement sustainable change. We have the energy of the people and support of the government with $15 billion earmarked for the rebuild. But we lack visions for how a sustainable city will look and function. We know solutions exist and invite the contributions and experience of designers from around the world. A socially, economically and environmentally sustainable city is not beyond our capacity. Can you help us get there?

Rebuilding Christchurch after the earthquakes: Young people's perspectives

Type of organisation	research
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - report published (May 2012)
Description	In August 2011, 24/7 Youth Work were approached about including a youth voice in the plans for rebuilding Christchurch after the earthquakes. 24/7 Youth Work enlisted the help of The Collaborative to do this research. Subsequently a survey and focus groups were conducted with young people from Christchurch high schools. These projects were funded by The Todd Foundation. A significant number of young people from Christchurch schools took part in the online survey. In all the focus groups we were struck by young people's enthusiasm for being involved in the rebuild process and their commitment to helping to create a Christchurch that is dynamic, safe, well designed and modern but respectful of its heritage. In this seminar the results of both the survey and focus groups will be presented. Hear what young people think about the rebuild of Christchurch - a place they recognised as somewhere in which they may work, study, live and raise their own families in the future.

Redcliffs on Sea Community Information Centre

Type of organisation	community; information dissemination; support
Scope of organisation	suburb
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	The Redcliffs Information Centre was established by local residents Vicki and Peter Hyde on 26 February and is coordinated by Fletcher Stanton. Initially the information centre consisted of a large noticeboard on the footpath outside Redcliffs New World. The Redcliffs School Board of Trustees became aware of the group and provided a caravan and when a degree of normality returned to Redcliffs with the return of electricity, the Redcliffs Information Centre established itself in a small office on the corner of Main and Beachville Roads. The information centre began as a place for local residents to access information about evacuations, location of portable toilets, water supplies, and the like, and donated foodstuffs and grocery items were provided at a time where few people remained in their homes, and those who did, did not have water, telephone, or electricity. It serves a broader purpose – providing support for local residents as they returned to the area (and many have), a place for a friendly chat.

Description	After a major earthquake in September, 2010, and over 4,000 subsequent aftershocks, a second major quake, magnitude 6.3, struck Christchurch on February 22, 2011. This earthquake had a devastating effect on our city. The death toll numbers in the hundreds, and the majority of the CBD was destroyed. We now have a totally unique, unprecedented, and extraordinary opportunity before us. Our city is waiting to be rebuilt, and we can reimagine it in any form we choose. This website is for you: to propose ideas, to discuss them, to identify the best ones and to coalesce the redevelopment effort around our grandest visions for what our city can be.

Objectives	The idea is that we work together to create wood sculpture workshops that have a life of their own and are, amongst other things: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. fun 2. rewarding 3. experimental/exploratory

	4. safe. People work together to make large and wondrous structures from this abundant material too often going to waste in Christchurch at this time. There are endless creative possibilities, and the idea is that there is support at hand from an architect and engineer or two, to support successful and safe translation of ideas into reality. Also this is a great opportunity to increase your sense of ability to work with wood, even if you haven't before.
Description	A voluntary group exploration into sculpture with wood being otherwise wasted in Christchurch.

Resilient futures: supporting recovery in greater Christchurch

Type of organisation	educational; event (one-off); research
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - event completed (18 April 2011)
Description	Summary The contributions from the various speakers and the audience highlighted a number of key recovery themes. These included the value of an overarching regional vision that is clearly informed by future risk reduction (not only from earthquakes, but from virulent disease, terrorism, food insecurity, aging populations, peak oil and other hazards) that is perhaps best implemented at a village scale using a holistic 'helicopter view'. This enables communities and local leaders to make best use of the opportunities the event has created. Though public engagement may appear to cause delays and generate high costs, international lessons suggest a number of benefits including political stability, community buy-in and support for new initiatives, the identification of workable solutions, and a generally positive recovery that promotes confidence in both the process and the likely end result. Such confidence is essential in terms of social and financial investment in the city and surrounds. Successful recovery therefore requires greater clarity around the development and implementation of a vision which, in turn, depends on good information flows (both up, down and across the system) and the translation of generalised aspirations into acceptable choice sets synthesised through mutual deliberation and informed exchange.

Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - event completed (22 February 2012 and 2013)
Objectives	The River of Flowers is an opportunity to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • come together as a city through a river of flowers • let go through dropping flowers into the river • hold two minutes of silence to remember those who have died, been injured, or who have lost their homes • write notes of hope and post them on a tree of hope • acknowledge the importance of the river(s) in the life and heritage of the city • give a token of respect back to the river(s) • show the connections between communities - particularly those most affected • celebrate our strength - resilience and supporting one another
Description	The inaugural River of Flowers on February 22nd 2012 was led by Healthy Christchurch and the Avon-Otakaro Network (AvON). Thousands of Cantabrians took part at more than a dozen sites across Christchurch. The event gave people the chance to connect with each other and shared their experiences and hopes for the future. Following requests from community the River of Flowers happened again in 2013, on the second anniversary of the February 22nd earthquake.
Activities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • From 8am to 8pm on 22 February 2013, people dropped flowers into Canterbury's waterways (Avon and Heathcote rivers and the Estuary). • From 12.30 to 1.30pm, local community groups hosted sites, and encouraged people to leave messages on a Tree of Hope. • At 12:51 two minutes silence was held.

Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	A Canterbury-based project that seeks to build community around the confluence of ecology and spirituality. Underlying the multiple ecological crises is a deeper spiritual crisis. This project has grown out of the conviction that only by building communities of change that connect spirituality and ecology will western societies find an alternative to the rationalist capitalist project that has had such a devastating impact on the community of life. We need to grow communities that integrate body, mind and spirit as we seek greater healing for the earth. Gatherings and events are held each month where we explore environmental issues from a spiritual/theological perspective; enjoy and seek to better understand the natural world; and, share resources that assist us to be the change we want to see and to be strong advocates for a green future. The project produces a monthly e-letter called CONFLUENCE. We are one of the founding groups of Avon Otakaro Network - the organisation promoting an Avon River Park on red-zone land along the Avon River.

Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	Our main aim is to foster positive social connections and trust within our community. More recently we have worked to provide local street-based information relevant to the community's response to the Canterbury earthquakes.
Description	The Roimata Community Incorporated Society (Roimata Community Inc.) is a geographically and community-based organisation. Roimata is the Christchurch neighbourhood bounded by Ensors Rd, Brougham St, Ferry Rd and Richardson Tce. Over the last couple of years the Roimata Community group has undertaken numerous activities designed to foster positive social connection and trust within our community.
Activities	These activities include ongoing newsletters, emails and meetings. We have a very successful gardening group; have hosted two area wide garage sale; and have completed two river clean ups for the section of the river in our area. Other activities include a history project, community research, and initiating new neighbourhood support groups. More than 150 households receive regular electronic updates about Roimata, we also periodically provide information to through mailbox drops to the wider neighbourhood, and we now have a community noticeboard in a central location.

Shaking up Christchurch Education (SUCE)

Type of organisation	campaign; community
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	The Christchurch earthquakes have devastated a whole range of the city's infrastructure regarded as vital components for a community to survive successfully. One of the key components of this infrastructure is our education system and, following the 2011 earthquakes, this has been seriously compromised. At the same time these events have opened up new possibilities and opportunities. In 2011 a group of us met to consider these possibilities and opportunities. We wanted to help in whatever ways would be useful in bringing a vision to reality, in the belief that vision and focus are paramount. Our initial group was composed of ex-principals, leaders, elearning experts and passionate educators - all with different strengths and networks. This site has some of the information we talked about last year, and other emerging material. In 2012 we decided it would be useful to provide whatever information we could to help schools in Christchurch, Otautahi and surrounding areas to consider possibilities. Our city has a rare opportunity to create a cohesive, compelling vision and direction for the future of education. While the role of the Ministry of Education is acknowledged, we also believe that our whole city must play a role in developing possibilities together. If we are to develop a world-class education system we need principals, teachers, parents, community, whanau, local government, businesses and students working together and creating the vision together.

Set up in response to EQs	? Rekindled 24 July 2012
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	The South Brighton Residents' Association was re-kindled in June 2012. Our first task was to produce a newsletter to go to all South Brighton (north side of Caspian Street to Shackleton Street) residents, as it was agreed that there was a vital need for information at this time. We now have a healthy team of people wanting to help out for the good of their community. The more people we can get involved, even in small tasks, the better.

SPRIG – Stoddart Point Regeneration Ideas Group

Type of organisation	community; event;
Scope of organisation	Suburb – Diamond Harbour
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	?
Objectives	A Diamond Harbour and Bays Community project, aiming to restore and rejuvenate what we've lost (and need) to keep our community vibrant... together.

Description	Stoddart Point is an important landform in Lyttelton Harbour, a valuable destination for locals and visitors alike. Recent earthquake events have resulted in an opportunity for Stoddart Point to develop its village centre infrastructure and atmosphere, and continue to provide a valuable asset to the local and greater Christchurch communities into the future. Godley House was an important part of Stoddart Point for over 100 years and its unfortunate destruction in the earthquakes of 2010/11 has provided a unique opportunity for the redevelopment of this site. The findings from the community consultation last year showed a clear preference for an inclusive plan to be developed for Stoddart Point. Stoddart Point, also referred to as “The Point”, includes: the former Godley House site, Stoddart Cottage, the Sports/Hall Facilities, the Memorial Gardens. This plan will consider existing commercial businesses, existing buildings, landforms, the connections between them, and any potential re-development of the Godley House site in context of this larger landscape. A Diamond Harbour and Bays Community project, aiming to restore and rejuvenate what we’ve lost (and need) to keep our community vibrant... together. (Stoddart Point Regeneration Ideas Group) is a group of local people, passionate about supporting the post-earthquake recovery of our community and is a sub-committee of the Diamond Harbour Community Association. SPRIG is here to negotiate the restoration and rejuvenation of our side of the Harbour on behalf of you, the communities of Diamond Harbour and Bays from Port Levy to Teddington. SPRIG liaises with all local residents’ associations and seeks to work with all local groups as well as local government, CERA and anyone else we need to achieve the outcomes you define.

St John Ambulance - Christchurch Earthquake

Type of organisation	disaster relief
Scope of organisation	Canterbury
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - immediate need passed
Description	After the magnitude 6.3 earthquake in Christchurch on 22 February 2011, St John crews responded to brain injuries, chest and limb injuries and crush injuries – transporting patients from around the stricken city and treating patients in the temporary triage centre we established at Latimer Square. Our crews, perhaps for the first time, faced the reality of transporting patients who had received emergency amputations in the field and operating triage on a large scale. During the days immediately following the quake, we were the lead agency at the welfare centres where we treated over 500 patients. We distributed 300 first aid kits to households in some of the worst affected areas in Avonside.

Sydenham Community Gardens

Type of organisation	community
Scope of organisation	suburb
Set up in response to EQs	No - established 1999 But work has changed since earthquakes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	Like all community gardens, our aims are to provide a place where people can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Grow food together as a community, • Beautify and improve their environment • Increase their gardening knowledge within a cooperative setting • Create neighbourhood support • Learn about sustainable living • Foster diversity • Provide horticultural therapy • Develop skills • provide venues for research, education and recreation
Description	Situated at 188 Strickland Street near Spreydon, the gardens have developed since 1999 into a multi-purpose community resource. Feel free to drop in at any time to look around and see what is going on. There are many opportunities for participating. (from http://communitygardens.org.nz/garden/christchurch-south-community-gardens/) Earthquake effects and current needs Greater expectations from community and funders (to provide more food for the community, run more workshops, engage with more groups, encourage greater participation). Total participation up by 4%, 40% increase in volunteer participation, group participation down by 50% – less available time/resources for organising group participation. Greater competition for general funds Limited special earthquake funding for community gardening – not recognised as an essential service Provided emergency food supply for community for both September 10 and Feb 11 earthquakes (3 supermarkets and Funky Pumpkin closed for various periods – our community garden open all hours – trust-based economy – koha) Total free meals provided p.a = 600, 400 jars of pickles made, 2 tonnes of produce made available for koha. Other resources available for koha – compost, seeds, plants, organic fertiliser 40 tonnes of material recycled (organic + inorganic) – free soil dumping for local residents post quake excavations (all put through compost system and restored to good condition). Manager reduced hours to spread out funds Increased sense of responsibility for community well-being

Tell New Zealand's government: Christchurch rebuild must lead the world in sustainability

Type of organisation	campaign
Scope of organisation	Christchurch; online
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - petition closed (5037 supporters)
Description	Christchurch is New Zealand's second largest city, with a population of 390,000. The February 22nd earthquake claimed over 180 lives, wrecking whole suburbs and devastating the central business district where a third of buildings are expected to require demolition. Christchurch people are hurting badly and will be so for many months to come, no matter how the city is rebuilt. While this is a time of devastating loss, it is also however one of opportunity: an opportunity to re-think the city, to gather local and international expertise in sustainable design and to re-develop Christchurch as a safe, prosperous, world-leading showcase for urban sustainability. It's an opportunity to deliver energy- and water-efficient new buildings, seamlessly integrated transport systems and green spaces that are accessible, productive and bio-diverse - in short a world-leading example of the very best in modern city living, benefiting its citizens, strengthening its communities, nourishing its businesses and supporting its unique natural environment. [...]

Temple for Christchurch

Type of organisation	art; event (one-off); transitional
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	catharsis
Description	“The Temple for Christchurch” is a large scale interactive art installation that seeks to provide a mechanism for emotional healing alongside the physical rebuilding of the city, and to be a catalyst for reflection on the past three years of earthquakes; from the initial damage caused, the lingering effects, to the process of recovery, and residents’ hopes for the future. [...] As people visit the Temple they are encouraged to share their stories and experiences with others by adding to the walls of the Temple. People are invited to bring photos, poems, mementos, letters from insurance companies; to write poems, and draw pictures. As more and more people add their stories to the walls, a communal dialogue is created, allowing insight into how others have been affected by the shared history of the earthquakes. The act of writing out these stories and the emotions associated with them can be a cathartic experience, an opportunity to let go of the of the past and move forward more freely. We encourage people to bring any emotions from their lives they wish to share, both positive and negative, and not just those earthquake related. 40-metre long and 25-metre wide artwork

Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - event completed (fundraising closed)
Description	We are a group of New Zealand riders who are cycling from Auckland to Christchurch on a threeseater bike to raise money for three great charities - Big Brothers Big Sisters, The Shortbread Trust and Gapfiller. We just love cycling on the threeseater and we would like to have other people share in the fun. Each day we shall have two cyclists on the threeseater bike. As part of the fundraising we are inviting riders to bid to join us on the third seat. Trade Me has come on-board as a partner to run the auctions. While some cyclists may wish to join us for the day, we are particularly keen to get casual cyclists to join us for a few kilometres. We want to keep the ride fun and encourage people to jump on the bike and go cycling. All the funds that are raised will be given to charity.

Type of organisation	community; environmental; umbrella organisation
Scope of organisation	Canterbury
Set up in response to EQs	No - established 2008
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	Wilding pine trees spreading across the upper Waimakariri basin are threatening the unique landscape and native flora & fauna of the area. The front of this spread has been brought back over 4km by the concerted efforts of many enthusiastic volunteers. An opportunity exists over the next 3 to 5 years for all parties to work together to get on top of the wilding issue. WELRA has been formed by the Canterbury Community to provide leadership and co-ordination of wilding control work before reseeding over wide areas makes the elimination of wilding pine trees from the Waimakariri Basin unaffordable.

We don't want a Cardboard Cathedral. We want our roads fixed

Type of organisation	community; protest
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Description	The CCC is not funding the cardboard cathedral in anyway the name does grab attention tho which is the whole purpose of this page. This is a page for frustrated Cantabs and aimed entirely at the Christchurch City Council. This is a joke. When are you going to fix our roads? Its been long enough, nearly 2 years. Driving around this city is ridiculous and if its dark and raining its just bloody dangerous. I think its about time someone pulled finger and got on with it, dont worry about sports stadiums and cardboard cathedrals. Fix our roads first so people can drive to the shops without writing off their suspension or getting whiplash from dodging potholes.

	But involved in Christchurch's NGO networks, including in earthquake-related matters Particularly concerned with student wellbeing after the earthquakes
Active in Sept 2013?	Active
Objectives	Supporting early childhood and school staff to support children and young people
Activities	Supporting student wellbeing - following the earthquake: http://wellbeing.tki.org.nz/Support A primary concern of parents and educators is children and young people's well-being - helping them cope well with the inevitable ups and downs of life. Well-being, or good mental health can be seen as the ability to face challenges confidently, enjoy life, have positive emotions (happy, valued), deal with problems optimistically, and make the most of change. This requires both well-being and resilience. Resilience is a tool, skill or process that a child or young person learns. It helps minimise the impact adverse times may have on their well-being and is part of healthy, inclusive and safe families, whānau and communities. Adults can help children and young people develop resilience skills through experiences and relationships that allow them to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identify and express cultural identity and adapt to other cultures, • reflection their thoughts and how this makes them feel physically and emotionally, • know that they can influence the way they feel and think and intervene effectively in their own life, even during difficult times, to engage and interact positively with others, leading to meaningful relationships. Type of organisation	event (one-off); youth
Scope of organisation	Christchurch
Set up in response to EQs	Yes
Active in Sept 2013?	Inactive - event completed (2011)
Description	Around 100 young leaders and visionaries aged 11 to 30 came together for a three-day workshop to reimagine Christchurch. On day one they heard from inspirational people like former San Francisco Mayor Art Agnos. On the second day they were given free entry by TEDxEQCHCH to attend their sold out public event with more amazing speakers. And on the final day participants pulled together their suggestions for the rebuild, with the final 10-page document presented to policymakers and politicians to consider. Among the ideas were providing spaces for young people, free outdoor entertainment, redesigning gardens, more bike lanes, ensuring wheelchair access, and bursting Christchurch's suburban bubbles. What set this event apart was the concept of the Teina: Tuakana (Little Brother: Big Brother) relationship. While the Tuakana are typically leasers, they also accepted that they had a lot to learn from their Teina. On day one the Tuakanas' role was leadership and inspiration. On the final day they became participants as the Teina lead the way.
